

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Project Management is the discipline that cultivates the expertise to plan, monitor, track and manage people, time, budget, and quality of the work on projects.

Aviation Operations Solutions can assist clients with all aspects of Project Management. This includes: recommendations, implementation, coordination, organization, planning, and cost analysis. With our clients we work to:

1. Develop the project plan
2. Choose a methodology or approach for the project
3. Select the project team
4. Identify and evaluate consultants
5. Engage top management sponsors
6. Determine training needs and arrange team training

Our expertise in the aviation segments of our business consists in the coordination of technical projects. Because we have diverse, hands on technical backgrounds, we can provide project management that is adept at managing projects and is technically competent in the projects' discipline.

We can assist smaller clients, who would otherwise pull valuable key employees from their primary duties to manage a project. We can supplement an organization's existing staff with temporary technical coordination and project management assistance, thus ensuring a successful start and completion of the project.
